QUEBEC FOOTBALL COACHES CLINIC SET

The sixth annual Quebec Football Coaches Clinic will take place March 14 and 15 at Concordia University's F.C. Smith Auditorium (7141 Sherbrooke Street West). Organized by Stingers football coach Skip Rochette, six Canadian Football League coaching personalities, in addition to the league's director of scouting, will serve as guest speakers at the two day event.

Ottawa Rough Riders head coach Joe Moss heads the list. Also confirmed are: Chuck McMann, receivers coach, Montreal Concordes; Stan McGarvey, offensive coordinator, Montreal Concordes; John Salavantis, offensive line coach, Hamilton Tiger-Cats; Rich Stubler, defensive coach, Hamilton Tiger-Cats; Dennis Meyer, defensive back coach, Toronto Argonauts and Joe Womack, the CFL's director of scouting. Topics will range from the basic four patterns of the run-and-shoot offence to the scouting of individual players.

Over 100 coaches from Quebec and Ontario are expected to be on hand. On March 15, at noon, the top instructors in Quebec will be honoured at a luncheon with Montreal Concordes head coach Gary Durchik serving as guest speaker.

Anyone media wishing to cover the event are asked to call Mike Cohen at 848-3849.
